Stanford Family Adventures

Mediterranean Family Adventure

LAND OF GODS AND HEROES

June 27 to July 8, 2017

a program of the stanford alumni association
For 20 years, Stanford families have cruised the Mediterranean, seeing ancient monuments and visiting sites that most people learn about only in school. When I went on this program a few years ago, I was inspired by the curiosity and camaraderie of our family travelers, and I could hardly believe just how much fun travel can be. This year we are back yet again to explore the fabled shores of Italy and Greece, this time aboard the luxurious SeaDream II and in the company of all-star faculty leader, Norman Naimark and our creative and zany Young Explorer leaders. This is a voyage not to be missed. Join us!

BRET S. THOMPSON, ’83, DIRECTOR, STANFORD TRAVEL/STUDY

Highlights

ENJOY a trip up Mount Vesuvius after exploring the preserved remains of Pompeii, buried by a Vesuvius eruption in 79 C.E.

RELAX with family and friends aboard the deluxe SeaDream II as we cruise from port to port.

GO for the gold competing with other families in the Stanford Family Olympics.

FOLLOW in the footsteps of ancient armed combatants in Rome’s Colosseum at Gladiator School, a Young Explorer option.
NORMAN NAIMARK, ’66, MA ’68, PHD ’72, former director of Stanford’s Bing Overseas Studies and current director of Stanford’s Global Studies Division has been traveling and studying the Mediterranean region for 40 years. One of his books, Fires of Hatred: Ethnic Cleansing in 20th Century Europe, addresses issues such as the Greek-Turkish war of 1919–22 and population exchange of 1923. Professor Naimark is widely recognized by students and colleagues for his warmth, wit and dedication to the Stanford community. A veteran faculty leader who has led more than 25 past Travel/Study programs, he and his wife, history professor Katherine Jolluck (with son, Ben, 12), have participated in three previous Mediterranean Family Adventures. The pair will be teaching at the Stanford campus in Florence in the fall of 2017.

—I never expected to be so enthralled by the lectures. Norman was not only a great speaker and teacher but he was also readily available for questions.”

About Family Adventures
Our Family Adventures are built from the ground up, always keeping families traveling with children in mind. That means that everything—from the timing to the activities to the special events—is selected to enhance the overall experience for your entire family. You’ll spend most of your time on tours together as a family. On occasion the kids will go off adventuring with their Young Explorer leaders while grownups enjoy adults-only activities such as extended museum and site tours. Parents and grandparents can enjoy lectures by renowned Stanford faculty and scholars while kids meet in their Young Explorer groups. Young Explorer leaders—at least one for every 10 kids—come prepared with games, activities and lots of energy to keep kids engaged and entertained.

Kids consistently give our Family Adventures an enthusiastic thumbs’ up because each trip features our outrageously cool Young Explorer Program! Young Explorers are grouped with travelers their own age to take part in awesome activities that are both educational and fun.

Young Explorers can channel some of their boundless energy playing games and doing craft activities in their Young Explorer groups. They’ll also challenge their minds during hands-on, educational and fun activities that promise to fuel their creativity and spark their inner genius. Young Explorers can also look forward to incredible “kids only” adventures, tours and meals.

Our Young Explorer program is led by recent Stanford grads who have spent their summers working as counselors at Stanford Sierra Camp. Young Explorer Leaders are pros at understanding and adapting to the personalities and interests of each Young Explorer, which means that everyone has a great time.

FUEL COSTS
In the uncertain, often volatile oil market of late, it is difficult to predict fuel costs over the long term and, more specifically, at the time of operation of this voyage. Our prices are based upon the prevailing fuel rates at the time of brochure printing. While we will do everything possible to maintain our prices, if the fuel rates increase significantly, it may be necessary to institute a fuel surcharge.

WHAT TO EXPECT
The Mediterranean Family Adventure is moderately strenuous and at times physically demanding, with some late nights. Participants must be physically fit, active and in good health. Daily programs involve walking three to five miles from bus drop-off points through city centers, in museums, at archaeological sites and on tours, as well as extended periods of standing in museums and on tours. Participants will encounter uneven terrain, including hills and some dirt and cobblestoned paths. Summer in Italy and Greece is typically hot and humid; temperatures on this program range from the low 90s during the day and down to the mid-60s in the evenings.

Deposit & Final Payment
A $1,000-per-person deposit is required to hold your space. An additional deposit of $1,500 per person is due by December 15. Sign up online at alumni.stanford.edu/trip?medfamily2017 or call the Travel/Study office at (650) 725-1093. Final payment is due 120 days prior to departure. As a condition of participation, all confirmed participants are required to sign a Release of Liability.

Cancellations & Refunds
Deposits and any payments are refundable, less a $500-per-person cancellation fee, until 120 days prior to departure. After that date, refunds can be made only if the program is sold out and your place(s) can be resold, in which case a $1,000-per-person cancellation fee will apply.

Insurance
Stanford Travel/Study provides all travelers who are U.S. or Canadian citizens with minimal medical, accident and evacuation coverage under our group-travel insurance policy. Our group policy is intended to provide minimal levels of protection while you are traveling on this program. You may choose to subscribe to optional trip-cancellation and baggage insurance. Information will be provided to travelers with their welcome materials. The product offered includes special benefits if you purchase your policy within 14 days of written confirmation of your participation on the trip.

Eligibility
We encourage membership in the Alumni Association as the program cost for nonmembers is $300 more than the members’ price. A person traveling as a guest paid for by a current member will not be charged the nonmember fee. For more information or to purchase a membership, visit alumni.stanford.edu/goto/membership or call (650) 725-0692.

Responsibility
The Stanford Alumni Association, Stanford University and our operators act only as agents for the passenger with respect to transportation and ship arrangements and exercise every care possible in doing so. However, we can assume no liability for injury, damage, loss, accident, delay or irregularity in connection with the service of any automobile, motorcoach, launch or any other conveyance used in carrying out this program or for the acts or defaults of any company or person engaged in conveying the passenger or in carrying out the arrangements of the program. We cannot accept any responsibility for losses or additional expenses due to delay or changes in air or other services, sickness, weather, strike, war, quarantine, force majeure or other causes beyond our control. All such losses or expenses will have to be borne by the passenger as tour rates provide arrangements only for the time stated. We reserve the right to make such alterations to this published itinerary as may be deemed necessary. The right is reserved to cancel any program prior to departure in which case the entire payment will be refunded without further obligation on our part. The right is also reserved to decline to accept or retain any person as a member of the program. No refund will be made for an unused portion of any tour unless arrangements are made in sufficient time to avoid penalties. Baggage is carried at the owner’s risk entirely. It is understood that the ship’s ticket, when issued, shall constitute the sole contract between the passenger and the cruise company. The airlines concerned are not to be held responsible for any act, omission or event during the time that passengers are not onboard their plane or conveyance. Neither the Alumni Association, Stanford University nor our operators accept liability for any carrier’s cancellation penalty incurred by the purchase of a nonrefundable ticket in connection with the tour.
